Take Our Community Issues Survey

Kauai Planning & Action Alliance will be celebrating its 10th anniversary at its annual meeting June 28. In preparation, we would like to hear your opinions about top issues facing Kauai where KPAA might be of assistance in bringing people together to collaboratively plan and then take action to benefit our island. To share your input, please complete a short online survey about community issues that would benefit from a collaborative approach. Go to: www.surveymonkey.com/s/KPAA-Public. The deadline to complete the survey is Wednesday, June 12.

Talking Story with Kwesi Rollins

On June 3, Kwesi Rollins of the Institute for Educational Leadership based in Washington, DC led talk story sessions for Keiki to Career Kauai participants on early childhood education, family engagement and leadership development. He noted that, as reported in the book "The Money Myth", there is no direct relationship between spending and school success. Where communities have been most successful, they have drawn on the assets that families and community partners have to offer to benefits students. These may be more valuable than funding. Knowing that Keiki to Career is trying to encourage collaboration among groups and individuals in the community, Rollins stated that collaboration is a learned behavior. He emphasized the need to build trust, be honest and create a safe environment so collaboration can flourish. These are among the values that Keiki to Career is built on.

Keiki to Career Kauai's vision is "an island community where Kauai's keiki through young adults are healthy, confident, competent and caring. KPAA serves as the backbone organization. To learn more and find out how you can get involved, go to: www.keikitocareer.org.
